

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

July 28, 2016

Mr. Maurice W. Raynor
Los Angeles, California

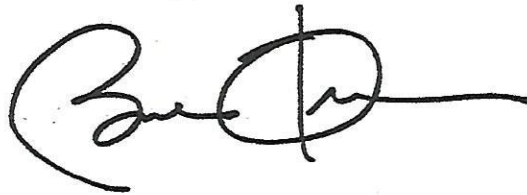

Dear Maurice:

Thank you for taking the time to share your story with me. It sounds like you have been through a lot, and I want you to know I admire your strength and determination.

In difficult moments, remember that as Americans we believe all things are possible for all people. Where you are or what's happening right now doesn't have to determine where you'll end up—and if you have faith in yourself and hold on to the courage and resolve that have brought you this far, I'm confident you can reach your goals.

Please know I'm rooting for you, and I wish you all the best.

Sincerely,

AUG 15 2016

United States Patent and Trademark Office

Office of the Commissioner for Patents

Dear Mr. Raynor:

Thank you for your letter dated June 17, 2016, addressed to the President. Your letter has been forwarded by the White House to the Office of the Commissioner at the United States Patent & Trademark Office (USPTO) for a response.

In your letter, you appear to offer assistance in helping the President save the world.

First, I would like to congratulate and thank you for acquiring your patent. Obtaining a patent is not an easy task. By filing for you patent you helped the USPTO fulfill our primary goals of fostering innovation, . . .
